SUSPICIOUS TRANSACTION REPORT (STR)

1. REPORT METADATA

* Subject ID: CUS-1014

* Subject Name: Tariq Mansoor

* Filing Classification: High Priority Suspicious Activity Filing

* Core Typology: Layering & Pass-Through / High-Velocity Offshore Funneling via Shell Entity

2. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This Suspicious Transaction Report (STR) is submitted regarding Subject Tariq Mansoor (CUS-1014) following the identification of an acute, high-velocity pass-through scheme exhibiting classic indicators of money laundering (layering phase). Over a 29-hour window, the Subject's 5-month-old account received four incoming corporate wire transfers totaling $62,000.00—representing approximately 17.7 times the Subject's declared monthly income—from four disparate, unrelated corporate entities. Within 18 hours of the final deposit, 98.39% ($61,000.00) of the aggregated funds were drained via an outbound SWIFT transfer to a corporate entity carrying explicit shell company markers (Apex Horizon Shell Ltd) located in a high-risk secrecy jurisdiction (British Virgin Islands), leaving no operational baseline activity.

3. SUBJECT & KYC CONTEXT

* Declared Profile vs. Observed Volume:

* Declared Occupation / Industry: Individual IT Consultant / Advisory Services.

* Declared Monthly Income: $3,500.00 USD.

* Observed Account Throughput: $123,000.00 gross throughput ($62,000.00 total inflows + $61,000.00 outbound) executed across a 46.5-hour operational window. Inbound volume exceeded declared monthly earnings by 1,671% (17.7x) in under two days.

* Account Maturity & Pattern Evolution:

* The account was opened 5 months prior to the flagged activity.

* Historical analysis reveals an absence of operational transaction history during the initial 5 months, reflecting a classic "sleeper account" profile designed to age the relationship and evade initial onboarding safeguards before being activated for high-volume illicit funneling.

* Account Purpose & Operational Inconsistency:

* Stated Account Purpose: "Consulting Retainers."

* Operational Reality: The account exhibited 0.00% ($0.00) routine operational activity—zero payments for living expenses, office overhead, local taxes, software licensing, vendor settlements, or salary drawdowns.

* The account functioned strictly as an unmonitored liquidity bridge and pooling node rather than a legitimate sole-proprietorship operating account.

4. CHRONOLOGY OF SUSPICIOUS TRANSACTIONS

- 1. Velocity & Timing: Legitimate consulting retainers follow structured billing schedules (30-to-90-day settlement cycles). Receiving four corporate wires from four distinct entities within 28.75 hours, followed by an offshore SWIFT execution within 17.75 hours, cannot be justified as routine business operations.
- 2. Fund Retention Dynamics: A legitimate business retains capital to cover tax obligations, operating costs, and profit margins. Draining 98.39% of gross deposits within 18 hours to a single offshore counterparty while retaining exactly $1,000.00 (1.61%) indicates pass-through execution with a retained conduit fee.
- 3. Counterparty Risk Profile: The beneficiary counterparty (Apex Horizon Shell Ltd) possesses explicit shell company naming conventions and operates out of a secrecy jurisdiction (BVI), ruling out standard supplier/vendor relationships.
- 4. Zero Baseline Overhead: The absolute absence of routine debit transactions (0% routine activity vs 100% anomalous pass-through volume) confirms the account is not used for legitimate business operations.

*Conclusion: The case *cannot be closed as a false positive.
